In response to your interest in having additional information, I have reviewed several documents and have attached just two. The first is a good summary which appeared as an article in the Wall Street Journal on August 22nd.

The second is a brief excerpt from a Congressional Research Report updating an earlier CRS study. As you will note, the excerpt deals with the National Security considerations associated with the Convention. Since National Security is the principal reason cited by most opponents, I thought that this brief point-counterpoint would be useful.

I am not an expert in international law, but the arguments made by the Legal Advisor to the State Department and by the US Navy were convincing to me. Despite this, I know that the opponents, including various bloggers, will not give up on their opposition to the Convention.

Subject: Re: US Arctic Claims

There have been no Senate votes in recent history. So, it's hard to tell exactly who supports the Convention and who does not.

Previously, Senators Lott (MS) and Inhofe (OK) have confirmed their opposition. On the other hand, Senators Biden and Lugar, Chairman and Ranking Member, respectively, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, support the Convention, but it is not yet clear whether they will bring it up this year.

According to Senator Murkowski's staff, the Senator is getting Alaska constituent mail on both sides of ratification. A majority supports approval.

I think we can expect some opposition in Alaska if you support the Convention. There are some Alaskans who believe that the US has failed to assert its sovereign rights to Wrangel Island and certain other islands owned by Rus sia. These individuals can be expected to oppose ratification of the Convention for fear of losing US sovereignty.

I know from precious experience that these folks can be quite vigorous in their opposition. However, most experts believe that, in the absence of US approval of the Convention, we would have to assert our rights unilaterally. For these reasons, they favor the Convention, because it creates a forum for adjudicating claims in a quasi judicial manner.

Subject: US Arctic Claims

This is through M ike Tibbles

Per your request, I have drafted the letter below to Senators Stevens = and Murkowski for your consideration.&n bsp;

Dear Senator -------

It is my understanding that the US Senate may consider the United = Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea in the fall.

With this in mind, I am writing to express my strong support for = Senate ratification of the Convention. In my opinion, the Convention = would be beneficial to the US and Alaska in various ways, but I want to = focus on one aspect in this correspondence.

As you know, several Arctic nations have recently asserted claims to = submerged lands off their coasts. The Convention on the Law of the = Sea establishes the framework for these assertions. To date, 155 = nations, including Canada and Russia, have approved the Convention. = If the US does not ratify the Convention, the opportunity to pursue our = own claims to offshore areas in the Arctic Ocean might well be = lost.

As a consequence, our rig htful claims to hydrocarbons, = minerals, and other natural resources could be ignored. In this = regard, geologists have prognosticated that billions of barrels of crude = oil and vast quantities of natural gas - not to mention various hard = rock minerals - might be present in the Arctic. In the absence of = affirmative action by the Senate, these resources could become the = property of nations with less valid claims.

It is my understanding that the Bush administration and many = Senators, both Republicans and Democrats, have expressed support for = Senate ratification of the Convention. However, as you know, = ratification has been thwarted by a small group of Senators who are = concerned about the perceived loss of US sovereignty.

I believe th at quite the contrary is the case. If the US does = not ratify the Convention, we will be denied access to the forum establishe= d by the international commun ity to adjudicate claims to submerged lands = in the Arctic.

I also urge that the Congress authorize the programs and funds = necessary for the US to assert its sovereign rights. The assertion = of such rights requires significant research and information gathering.&nbs= p; Other Arctic nations have recently begun this process, and I understand = that the US is moving in this direction as well.

I believe that you have previously supported Senate ratification of = the Convention. With this letter, I want to put my Administration on = record in support of the Convention as the predicate for asserting = sovereign rights that will be of benefit to Alaska and the nation. = Hopefully, this letter will assist you in articulating Alaska's = position to your c olleagues in the Senate.

Thank you for considering my views.

Please note t hat my email address has = changed. My new email address = is <mailto:jwkatz@alaskadc.org> jwkatz@alaskadc.org. = Thank you .

If not, I assumed we'd do it telephonically so they're not offened that I couldn't meet them in Juneau.

Also, Janice- would you contact Nueman, let him know I'm available for telephonic mtg next week (or early this morning or sometime tomorrow) as we're packed with ppt mtgs until Tuesday. He'd requested a visit recently, I was told.

I can get to Juneau Tuesday after press conf so sched can reflect that.

I'll feel pretty bad if we cancel on Joe S tomorrow if he needs the weekend to prepare for Sept 5 budget mtg, hense he's seeking direction from us tomorrow. Mtg with him and Russ is fine with me, we'll just make sure they can keep it concise?

Since we have been spending so much time on the oil tax, we have not had a chance to discuss the location of the special session. The location will be a big part of the press event. I will need to finalize the proclamation calling the special session for your signature. The outstanding issues are the location, time and content of the session. The time is fairly irrelevant. The wording of the content is important because it can restrict the issues taken up during the session. I will work the language out with Joe and Pat. What are you thinking about the location? Subject: Scheduling Requests

Governor and Todd -

You have both been included in an invitation from Bill Sheffield to visit the Port of Anchorage on September 11 (Tuesday) from 9:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m. as Horizon and TOTE will host their Annual Food Drive Bar-B-Que. A donation of $1M in gravel will also take place during this time. This will give you first hand the opportunity for tour and to meet with majority of people who make the Port operate. In this regards we have also received a phone call from Paul Fuhs and Scott Heyworth to get your confirmation. Scott said that this was discussed with the Governor previously and that you agreed to make it. In a previous request from Bill Sheffield - Commissioner von Scheben toured the Port of Anchorage in July.

The California Republican party is inviting the Governor to be the featured speaker at their state convention. September 7 - 9, 2007. They are asking that the speech take place at one of the meal functions which draws the largest attendance. Dinner Fri., Sat., Lunch Saturday, Sunday General Session. This is held at the Renaissance Esmeralda Resort & spa in Indian Wells, California.

A letter had come in earlier (in your reading file) asking for the Governor and First Gentleman to participate in the Governor and Spouses Challenge beginning Sept. 15 - Jan. 31, 2008. Will you both be participating in this request?

Even though September is soon upon us, we need to decide a date in December for the Juneau Open House. This needs to be done this far in advance for preparation purposes. Last years date was December 11. May we suggest December 10 which is a Monday and approximately 2 weeks before Christmas.

Rep. Peggy Wilson and Rep. Bill Thomas met with Russ Kelly today. Russ just reported that the meeting went well and they were both very happy.

Thanks, Janice

They're so sick of all my emails today, I bet they do NOT read the links on down to your original message. No problem...

And I just spoke to Glen Beigel - topic shifted to your, and others, futures. Some day we'll chat about the future...

And I'm going to meet with Glen for coffee next week perhaps.

The state credit card, again, won't let me use it. I'm standing here trying to pay for PPT tax team's dinner - the card is rejected as a "Fleet card only"... I very rarely use this and haven't purchased anythingl on it for a long time - but it wasn't rejected last time. I'll use personal credit card.

Hi Frank,

I just called but you must be back in Kindergarten again today!!!!!

I am going to have to decline. I am flattered that anyone would consider me for such a job, but if I were to come back full time, I think it would have to be something for which I have more expertise and passion.

Now if any gas consulting jobs come along!!!!!!

Please pass on my deepest regrets and highest respect to our great leader!

Cheers,

Jeff

Dear Ms. Smith:

Governor Palin asked me to respond to your email regarding the FY2008 budget for the State of Alaska. As you know, Governor Palin recently signed the operating and capital budgets with approximately $231 million in reductions through line-item veto.

The Governor's budget goals have been very clear: to slow the growth of government, live within our means, and save for the future. The Governor's budget promotes a strong economy, world-class education, safer communities, and a solid infrastructure. This budget prioritizes state spending, makes substantial investments in core services, and saves for future.

Public participation is an essential element of budget development. Thank you for taking the time to comment on the budget.

Sincerely,
Karen J. Rehfeld, Director
Office of Management and Budget

Re: Fire Island Wind Farm and ChangePoint Sport Facility

Dear Governor Palin:

Please do not veto the appropriations to Chugach Electric and Municipal Light and Power for work on Fire Island. This is vital and important for Alaska's energy future.

Our oil and gas will not last forever. The increased price of oil will provide Alaska with more money, but Enstar is increasing its rates to Alaskans now. It is critical that we diversify our energy resources by investing in renewable resources. This will create one source for long term stable electricity costs. Once the Fire Island Wind Farm project is complete, prices will not go up. In this way it is like a hydroelectric project.

I am oppossed to the $1.4 million going to ChangePoint for the indoor sport facility. Please consider a veto of this project. ChangePoint already got a "great deal". The state should not provide them with any additional financial support. It appears very inappropriate for Rep. Kevin Meyer to direct Alaska money to his church sponsored facility.

Thank you for considering my comments.
